Home grown cherries are now coming into the local market. By the bushel growers are asking four dollars. Two dollars per bushel is considered a fair price for picking cherries, which cuts the growers' net price to two dollars and this is further reduced by the cost of marketing.

When you strain your back you know that the trouble is in your spine; you felt it there, you put your hand upon the place to rub out the pain. When you disorder the spine by bad habits of sitting or standing, however, there is no pain, just loss of vigor, nervousness and weakness, and you have to be told by the chiropractor analysis that the spine is out of order before you believe it. See Dr. States today and get on the road to health.

BAR ASSOCIATION MEETS AND HAS JOLLY TIME

The annual meeting of the Western Nebraska Bar Association was held in this city Wednesday with an attendance of between thirty-five and forty visiting lawyers. The meeting convened at ten o'clock at the court room in the federal building where addresses were made by W. T. Wilcox, president of the association, Victor Halligan, Robt. Simmons and J. G. Motherhead of Scotts Bluff, E. H. Evans of this city and Mr. Irving of Bridgeport, all of whom were in service. Other speakers at the forenoon and afternoon sessions were J. A. Rodman, of Kimball, Harold Prince of Grand Island, Chief Justice Morrissey of the state supreme court.

At the afternoon session officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Wm. Morrow of Scotts Bluff; vice-president, J. E. Nisley of Lexington; treasurer, Rolfe Halligan, now in service in Germany; secretary, Nils Oleson of Lexington. The next annual meeting will be held at Scotts Bluff.

In the evening a barbecue was held at Dick's grove, where the attendance was in the neighborhood of 125. A band concert was given, bathing included in a fine supper served, and a number of rattling good addresses delivered.

Nearly all the visitors spent the night in town and left for their respective homes yesterday morning.

Real Summer Weather

We have been having real summer weather this week, and corn which was backward is now humping itself. Sunday the temperature rose to ninety-three, Monday it registered ninety-six, Tuesday ninety-two, Wednesday ninety-seven, and yesterday above ninety-five. The temperature at North Platte Wednesday was the highest reported by any weather bureau in the United States, evidence that North Platte leads in more ways than one. The weather may cause us a little discomfort, but for the sake of the growing corn we should smile and be happy.

Can't Run Special Train.

President Coates, of the fair association, who took up with the Union Pacific officials the proposition of running a special train on the branch on July 4th, has been notified that on account of lack of equipment it cannot be run. Passenger travel is now so heavy that every available car is needed for the regular trains.

The new lighter six Chandler, named the "Cleveland," is announced to the public in this week's Saturday Evening Post. Look it up. I will have samples of this beautiful small car in my show room early in July. J. V. Romigh, Dealer.

WELL KNOWN RANCHMAN PASSES AWAY YESTERDAY

Albert Coolidge, aged seventy-seven, one of the early settlers north of the river and a prominent and well known ranchman, passed away yesterday morning shortly after eight o'clock at a local hospital. Mr. Coolidge was in his customary health up to Sunday evening when he became sick and began vomiting and this was followed by the appearance of blood poisoning. His condition was not considered serious until Tuesday when the attending physician recommended his removal to a hospital, to which he was taken Wednesday morning, and within twenty-four hours the spirit took its flight.

Bereaved are the wife, son Clarence, and daughters Mrs. Rector, living near Hershey, and Maud, who lives at home.

Farmers Visit the State Farm.

One hundred or more Frontier county farmers, a number of them accompanied by members of their family, were visitors at the state farm yesterday and were shown everything that was of interest to them by Supt. Snyder and his assistants. The visitors arrived early in the forenoon and at noon were served with a lunch furnished by the business men of North Platte in conjunction with the state farm employees. At this lunch one hundred and seventy-five were served. Later in the afternoon quite a number of the visitors came to town, some of whom had never before visited North Platte. In talking with one of the visitors he stated that he had driven seventy miles, but that he felt well repaid for making the trip, as he had seen many things at the state farm that were interesting and would prove of benefit to him.

Wire Plant Brings New Men.

The installation of the new Western Union efficiency plant and the opening of the down town office will bring to North Platte from six to ten additional employees, nearly all of whom have families. Three of these new men are now on the ground. They are O. A. Carroll, who will be manager of the plant; C. A. Griffin, wire chief and chief operator; and N. G. Bowen, early night chief operator. Yet to come are the day chief operator, the late night chief operator, and a half dozen operators and linemen.

The perplexing question with these men is where they can get houses in which to live.

Army Worm Cleaning Gardens.

Is the army worm devastating your garden? If not yet, it probably will, for a number of gardens have been swept clean of vegetation by this worm. Several residents in the south part of town have reported to The Tribune that their gardens have been cleaned—not even the stub of a stalk left. The worms came in hordes, from whence no one knows, and in about a day they cleaned gardens and continued their onward march to newer fields. Watch for the army worm if you value your garden.

If the "Committee of Property Owners" who sent the communication on street paving to The Tribune will send us their names we will publish the article, otherwise not. That communication for publication be signed by the writers is a rule laid down by this paper years ago and has been observed. The writer's name is for the information of the editor.

An Oshkosh man in town yesterday was very much disappointed when he learned that a special train would not be run over the branch on July 4th. "A special train would have meant a thousand people from branch towns," said he; "we would ride in stock, box or coal cars, if the company could not get coaches. However, lots of us will come down the night before by train or get an early start and come by auto."
